Santa needed a chair

One day, the elves visited Santa. Santa wanted the elves to help him to make a chair.

Santa gave the elves a picture of the chair he wanted. Then, they looked at the picture and planned how to make it. After that, they went to the workshop and started working. They cut some wood and built the chair. It took them a day to finish it.

Next the elves gave Santa a sack of chairs they made. Santa found that the chairs were the 'elf-sized' chairs. He was surprised. He thanked the elves and said goodbye to them. Finally, Santa was unable to sit on the sack of chairs to have his meal.
