Santa’s Present

Once, Santa wanted a chair so the elves wanted to make him one. The elves went to the workshop and tried to make a chair for Santa.

They built four chairs for four hours. Then they gave the chairs to Santa. When Santa saw the chairs, he was very surprised. The chairs were elf-sized. Santa was happy but disappointed. He thanked the elves and said goodbye.

Santa was unable to sit at the dining table because the chairs were too small. So he sat on his sack to have Christmas dinner instead.
