

PINOCCHIO

A Special Morning

Written by Yeung Hin (5B)

It was a dark, cold morning. It had been snowing since late last night. When Sal walked out the front door, he saw something unusual.

He saw something on the ground. He was frightened. Suddenly, he met Pinocchio who could speak. He had an ear, two hands, a body and two legs. He was as normal as a boy. Sal was so surprised. He lived in Pinocchio's City.

Sal brought Pinocchio to APM Shopping Mall. When they crossed the road, a car crashed into them. Their hands got hurt. Then they fell on the skin of a banana. Unfortunately, they broke a leg. Someone called an ambulance. They were sent to hospital. The doctor did his best to cure them. Finally, they got well.
