

The Brown Bunny

Written by Cheung Yuk Sing (5B)

A small brown bunny peeked out of his burrow one summer afternoon. The bunny was feeling very hungry but there was a fox sitting nearby. 'How can I get by that fox?' he wondered.

The bunny saw the fox. He was afraid because he thought the fox would eat him. The bunny went out and found the food.

Suddenly, a big stone fell down from the sky. The fox didn't know about that. The big stone hit the fox. The fox was not afraid because it was dead. The bunny was relaxed to find the food. It ate the food and it was full.
