A Special Experience at Lok Wah Catholic Primary School

On a hot sunny Friday morning, my best friend, Kiki and I were playing basketball in the school playground. Kiki is good at playing basketball. She is in the basketball team. She always wins.

When she was shooting hoops, somebody pushed her. She lost her balance and fell on the floor. 'Ouch!' cried Kiki. She hurt her legs and arms. She was in pain. I told the teacher what had happened. The teacher quickly took Kiki to the hospital emergency room. 'Kiki scraped her elbow and broke her leg,' she said. The doctor replied, 'Don't worry. I will put a bandage on the wound. I also have to put her leg in a cast.'

Suddenly, Kiki cried loudly. The teacher asked, 'Are you okay?' Kiki said, 'I am afraid I can't play basketball anymore.' The doctor said, 'Don't worry. You will recover soon.'

In the end, Kiki could play basketball again. She also taught me how to play basketball. I am glad to have a friend like her.
